

Population and Economy Including Fishing

19 July 2021 8:00 to 9:15. New Harbor Firehouse. JED Notes

Present: Jamie Doherty, Jason Sewall, Tom Bishop, RoseAnne Holladay

RoseAnne working on population data and finds projections for 2019 have uncertainty but moving forward with what we have. Hopefully 2020 census data is available before we must go final.

Tom suggests we should have some information on Internet Connectivity; it may be important if more people move to Bristol and work from home.

Discussion on data needs from other subcommittees. Since we are collecting economic and population data, we should be able to supply others if they need something, so they do not have to duplicate work. Also, often information from different sources does not exactly agree so if we supply information there will be less confusion.

Discussion on ease of use of Google Docs – some people do not have access or good familiarity. We will stick to circulating Excel sheets between ourselves until we have something to publish.

Learning from whole committee workshop = individual CP sections mostly likely reviewed by department that has responsibility at the state level. It would be prudent that we ask the relevant department for information to be sure we get what they think we should have.

Tom will start a draft outline so we can track our progress as we create charts.

Agree that meeting will be 8:00 third Monday at New Harbor firehouse.
